Dear Parent,

Since these are the peak hours for Learning and Growing, the teachers as well as the students will be gearing up towards another toiling phase. Paying whole hearted attention to the academics & at the same time participating in all the competitions organized in the school, to showcase the vigor and zest of the young buds, is the prime motto of this transitional tenure. Despite obstacles that may arise on the way, one must always believe in our ability to rise above challenges and come out stronger. Therefore instead of making excuses, one should take them as challenge and work hard to overcome them.
