Dear Readers,
After the celebrations, festivities, colorful lights and feast laden platters we must remember to embrace the most important task again- our children's overall development by enhancing their competence. We are at the cusp of winters. I request all the parents to gear up for the winters and woollens. A moment of negligence can cost the precious health of our students. Our school is geared up and I am sure you too are buckled up. I take a moment to give thanks for all that we have for our students, our families, our staff, for all God's glorious blessings. We give thanks for the opportunity to share the lives of your children each day and for your ongoing support of our School community. It is our hope that children will feel and believe that they are blessed, valued and loved by all. Thank you for setting high expectations for our students and educators. As principal, I have been reorienting my skilled teachers by enhancing their potential. Welcome to November and a busy month that lies ahead! We focus on the whole child academically, behaviorally, and socially. My main goal is to ensure that social-emotional learning and care are available to all. While assuring we address the academics and uncertainty of our health crisis that is prevalent throughout the world.
God Bless Us All!!!
